ARCHAEOLOGICAL CONSULTANTS & CONTRACTORS

There is a range of commercial and not-for-profit organisations that are able to provide maritime archaeological services. Developers are urged to ensure that they appoint archaeological consultants/contractors who can demonstrate appropriate skills and knowledge for working in the marine zone. To ensure that professional standards are adhered to by archaeological organisations, developers should seek to appoint contractors who hold membership of the Institute of Field Archaeologists at individual or organisational level. Curators will be able to provide a list of archaeological consultants and contractors.
